THAW'S TRIAL SET FOR FEB. 23; NO BAIL

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Harry K. Thaw pleaded not guilty this morning before Supreme Court Justice Davis to the charge of conspiracy in connection with his sensational escape from Matteawan Asylum. He will be tried on February 23. He was then remanded to the Toms prison, making no attempt to secure bail.

Justice Davis refused a motion by Thaw's attorney to send the prisoner to Bellevue Hospital for examination as to his sanity.

WOULD TAX THE JITNEY BUSES IN NEW LAW

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—Chairman Cogswell of the Senate committee on revenue and taxation today introduced a bill in the Senate to tax "jitney buses" in addition to the regular automobile tax.

The bill would graduate the tax according to the carrying capacity of the bus, and the rates would be determined by investigations and hearings during the legislative recess.

The state faces a loss of $200,000 annually in its share of the gross earnings of street railway companies, through the competition of automobile buses, Cogswell says.

GOMPERS TO HAVE BIRTHDAY DINNER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—In honor of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who today celebrated his sixty-fifth anniversary, a birthday dinner tonight was planned, with speeches by prominent labor leaders here and in Congress. Secretary of Labor Wilson was expected to attend.

WEATHER FORECAST

For Santa Ana and Vicinity—Rain tonight and Thursday.

This is Gen. Roque Gonzales Garza, the newest president of Mexico. He won the job over night when Gutierrez fled fearing he would be attacked not only by Villa, but by the Carranza followers. The provisional convention, which has more or less assumed to direct the affairs of Mexico since it came into clash with Carranza, elected him at a meeting in Mexico City. The last report was that Villa was hurrying troops to the city to protect its action.

Garza is about thirty-six years old, a graduate of the law school in Mexico City and has been practicing law for years.

SAILS TO CONQUER SOUTH AMERICA FOR U. S. TRADE

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The commercial invasion of South America begins in earnest today when the American-built and American-registered steamer Finland starts out on its 16,000-mile trip. The steamer will go to the West Indies and then circumnavigate the southern continent, stopping at the principal ports and coming back by way of the Panama canal. The passengers will be prominent bankers, manufacturers, merchants, exporters and importers.

On the Finland will be a complete assortment of goods suitable for South American trade, each article bearing the "Made in U. S. A." stamp.

The trip will take 106 days. Arrangements were made by the Fidelity Trust Company of Baltimore and the steamer will stop at that port on January 29.

GETS $116,000 HEART BALM AFTER BREACH

BANGOR, ME., Jan. 27.—Miss Elizabeth Garmon, a nurse, of Des Moines, Iowa, who recently instituted a breach of promise suit for $250,000 against John B. Henderson, the Washington millionaire, and a son of the late Senator Henderson of Missouri, was today awarded $116,000 by a jury. She claimed Henderson promised to marry her and that he is the father of her little daughter.

Taft Declares Opposition to U. S. Shipping Bill

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP IS PLAYED

'We Learned One Lesson With the Panama Lines,' Says Former President

BY PERRY ARNOLD
[United Press Staff Correspondent. Copyright 1915 by United Press.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Determined opposition to the administration shipping bill now pending in the Senate was voiced today by former President Taft.

In an interview with the United Press, Mr. Taft commended the filibuster against the bill led by Senator Burton of Ohio.

"I am positively opposed to the bill," said Mr. Taft. "Do I think it will pass? That depends upon the success of the filibuster."

Mr. Taft was passing through New York en route from New Haven to the University of Virginia, where he will lecture, and admitted unusual interest in the measure.

"American private capital certainly would not be invested in a business which comes into competition with the government," he said. "That is exactly the situation presented in the shipping bill. I am vigorously opposed to government ownership in any form."

"We had some experience of that type of government ownership in the Panama railroad, and the Panama steamship line, though they were of different character."

"My wishes in that line coincide with those of Senator Root of New York. I don't know how long the Republican filibuster in the Senate can prevent the passage of the bill, but Senator Burton has had considerable experience as a filibuster. The matter depends on the extra session problem. I think everyone wants to avoid a session after March 4."

Mr. Taft refused to be drawn into a discussion of the political situation and declined to comment on President Wilson's Indianapolis Jackson day address.

MRS. GRACE GOLD OWNS ATTORNEY IN SUIT

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Grace Gold appeared as her own attorney in a separation suit against Edw. E. Gold, millionaire president of the Gold Car Heating & Lighting Company.

Mrs. Gold has had nineteen attorneys, among them former Judge Alton B. Parker, since her suit was filed, but for reasons she will not discuss she has decided to do her own pleading.

BEATEN, THROWN INTO SEA NEAR SANTA MONICA

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 27.—The police today are mystified by the experience of a man believed to be named Carl Olson, who was found unconscious in the surf near the mouth of the Santa Monica canyon this morning and brought here for treatment.

One pocket contained a card bearing the name, Carl Olson.

Several hours later he recovered consciousness and babbled a few sentences about being attacked by two men and thrown into the sea.

The police are uncertain whether he was attacked or attempted suicide. The man is well dressed, about 40 years old, and his pocket contained quite a sum of money.

KAISER GIVES PARDONS ON BIRTHDAY

BERLIN (by wireless to London), Jan. 27.—In celebration of his fifty-sixth birthday today, the Kaiser has granted a general amnesty freeing hundreds under punishment for breaking of military and disciplinary regulations. This also frees all charged with evading the call to arms last August. The orders were issued from the Kaiser's field headquarters and telegraphed here.

Wields Great Power
Emperor William II has the distinction today, as he celebrates his 56th birthday, of being more able to wield power for good or evil than any ruler since the first Napoleon. No man's history has aroused so much discussion. He is conceded everywhere to be the central figure in the war.

This man of whom everyone is talking was born on January 27, 1859. His father was Frederick III; his mother, the Princess Victoria of Great Britain. When his father died on June 15, 1888, after a short reign, the present Emperor succeeded to the throne. He married Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, who is three months older than he, on February 27, 1881. They have seven children, six princes and one princess.

William II is a many-sided man. With a capacity for hard work and long hours, combined with a mind quick to grasp essentials, he would have succeeded in almost any business or profession. As an emperor it is for the future historian to say whether he is a success or a failure. Until the war broke out, at least, he was thoroughly in love with his work and arose at 5 o'clock in the morning in order to do as much as possible. "We Hohenzollerns know nothing about dressing gowns," is a saying of his.

Plans Far Ahead
His program for each day, for each week and for each month is always carefully planned far ahead. Of course, the war has cut into his ordinary routine; in fact, the death of the Austrian Archduke compelled him to return from Norway where he always spent his annual yachting trip.

He is a prodigious reader and on his table may be found American, British and French magazines and newspapers as well as German. His favorite books are those dealing with history and economics. For recreation he reads Latin and Greek poetry, Horace and Homer being his favorites.

He has a clear, strong voice and his recent illness does not seem to have affected it—despite reports to the contrary. Furthermore, the Emperor likes to use his voice in loud singing of hymns or in delivering flowery sermons to his family and crew on the "Hohenzollern," his yacht, or at one of the palaces.

Military Man Par Excellence
But it is in the role of the military man that William II will be remembered longest and his birthday today sees him engaged in a struggle which is the climax of that training which began with his boyhood days when he was given a miniature frigate, the Royal Luise, with which he might play. Since that time he has reviewed troops, supervised maneuvers, studied tactics and encouraged military and naval efficiency on the ground that the best preparation for peace is to prepare for war. His many portraits show him almost invariably in uniform.

His interest in naval affairs has always been unceasing. "Our future lies on the water," is a saying of his which he first pronounced many years ago. And he has tried to keep pace with other countries in building up a large navy.

Today Emperor William stands as the last of the great monarchs—a sovereign who is more like the mighty rulers of old than any other ruler in Europe with a deep-seated belief in "The Divine Right of Kings." His hair is grayer than it was a year ago—and the greyiness was commented upon then in the cablegrams. He is a little stouter and his health is probably not as vigorous as it once was.

This is a striking photograph of the beginning of a battle scene in France. An English battery called into action was moving along one of the fine roads to be found all over France when the battle turned in that direction. In an instant the horses drawing the gun were unhitched and the driver started off to a place of safety. But before he had gone fifteen yards a German shell burst. Though the horses were trained to stand fire, they were so startled they nearly broke away.

CHICAGO STOCKYARDS CLOSED, FOOT- MOUTH DISEASE EPIDEMIC

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Chicago stockyards will be closed tonight indefinitely to all out-going stock shipments on account of foot and mouth disease, and will not be open until the yards have been thoroughly disinfected.

Fifteen hundred men began this work today.

Though President Leonard declared the action would not affect the livestock market, prices today fell to a lower level than for weeks and the market is demoralized.

MAN, WOMAN, DIE BY BLOW OF HATCHET

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Marion Franklin, aged 30 years, a stenographer, and a man believed to be John Christopher, aged 60 years, an engineer, were found dead today in an apartment house. Their heads were crushed and a bloody hatchet and hammer were found nearby.

Joseph Kriehseder and his wife, janitors of the building, were arrested.

The woman was intoxicated and unable to talk coherently, but the police gather from her mumblings that her husband knows something of the crime.

COMMITTEE IS TO SECURE TEN NAMES EACH

At a meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce committee having in charge the securing of names of those who will make up the special excursion to San Diego February 6, it was voted that each of the thirteen members secure ten names, together with deposits of $3.20, the round trip rate. The meeting was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Tickets may be secured of the following, who compose the committee: James S. Smart, chairman; George W. Minter, J. A. Smiley, A. C. Tiede, J. F. Baumgartner, Frank P. Clarkson, L. F. Carden, J. A. Cranston, F. T. Smith, D. Eymann Hunn, Mitt Phillips, J. R. Schooley, C. E. Utt and J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

The special train, it was decided yesterday, will leave Fullerton, at 7:30 o'clock on the morning of February 6. The train will leave Santa Ana at about 8 o'clock.

Secretary Metzgar has sent notices to the various Orange county booster bodies and it is expected that a great crowd will make up the excursion. The committee will report Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30.

WILSON SURE COMING WEST
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—It is officially announced today that President Wilson will make his promised western trip in March, regardless of whether the Panama canal trip is possible or not.

SAXONS TAKE 8 GUNS, 865 PRISONERS IN CHARGE

BERLIN (by wireless to Sayville), Jan. 27.—Brilliant German successes in a series of infantry charges on the heights of Craonne are claimed in the official war office statement this afternoon.

It is asserted the Saxons took several important positions along a front of 1500 yards, capturing eight machine guns, 865 French prisoners and one depot with considerable war material, besides forcing the French to flee.

It is insisted the British attempts to re-capture the positions they lost on La Basse canal failed completely.

Southeast of St. Mihiel, it is said, an important French position has been captured and a French counter-attack repulsed.

There have been no important clashes in Poland though it is claimed the Russians lost heavily in an attempt to resume the offensive in East Prussia.

Vienna reports severe fighting in the Carpathians, and admits heavy Austrian losses, but asserts that the Austrian artillery has scored a tremendous advantage at Tarnow.

The war office admitted the torpedoing of the light cruiser Gazelle in the Baltic. In comment it expresses the belief that the Russians are responsible.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Germans entrenched in the west bank of the Meuse at St. Mihiel have been cut off from communication with the main body by the destruction of their pontoon bridges, according to a war office statement issued today.

French infantry attacks continued there yesterday and reckless German attacks at East Rheims and on the heights of Craonne are said to have been repulsed with severe loss.

Severe cannonading is in progress at Neuport, Ypres and Lens, and southward to Soissons.

German claims of victory over the British west of La Basse are flatly denied, the war office declaring that the report yesterday that the British had achieved a sweeping success had been confirmed.

More than 400 German dead are reported picked up on the Bethune road.

BILLS INTRODUCED PLAN REFORMS IN INITIATIVE, REFERENDUM, RECALL

CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—Senator Candler today introduced a series of bills for constitutional amendments covering the so-called reforms in the initiative, referendum and recall, requested by the governor.

The changes are largely technical, simplifying the handling of these instruments, and fail to change the proportion of signatures required to make them effective.

The only radical change provides for elections to decide whether an officer shall be recalled without a simultaneous ballot on his successor.

The governor in most instances will be empowered to appoint a successor to serve the uncompleted term in the event of a successful recall movement.

STATE TO CONTROL SALOONS, NEW BILL

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—The Grape Growers' bill, proposing a transfer of the control of the liquor traffic from the city to the state, was introduced in the Assembly today by Bruck of Napa.

If provides a State Excise Commission, with three members at a salary of $4000, with district commissioners at $3000. It limits saloons to one to each 500 of population, and classifies licenses, bar licenses being worth $1000 annually.

The city gets 90 per cent and the state ten. Bartenders will be compelled to take out a state license at $3 annually. The measure would not interfere with communities regulating saloons.

"Between forty and fifty prisoners are at work on West Fifth street," said he, "getting the sides of the road cleaned up. Jerusalem pine will be planted on West Fifth to its end, and Arizona pine on the road through Garden Grove to West Anaheim."

Jerusalem pine will be used on the road running west from the County Hospital.

Grant stated that a crew of prisoners has been employed steadily in leveling the grounds at the County Hospital, and in building roads.

Recently, the county forester, and A. S. Bradford, chairman of the Board of Forestry, went over some roads in the Placentia district that are under consideration for planting.

There was some discussion yesterday as to what other planting shall be done. T. E. Stephenson, committee of the board, stated that the board's petition to the State Highway Commission to enter upon the state highway to do planting had been referred to Commissioner Darlington, with whom a meeting is to be held. Owing to the fact that road work is being done south of Santa Ana there is little chance to do planting on the state highway to the south this spring.

Gaps to Fill In
Between Santa Ana and Fullerton gaps can be filled in, there being but one place of a mile or more where planting on both sides can be done. From a point this side of Anaheim into Fullerton date palms have been set, and the best plan may be to continue filling in the gaps along that portion of the state highway, with date palms.

The state road from Fullerton to the Los Angeles county line will soon be finished, and probably can be planted this spring.

A. E. Bennett of Tustin said that he believed in variety along a highway, rather than the monotony produced by mile upon mile of street with the same kind of trees on it. Through canyons, such as the Santa Ana and Laguna, he advocated that the planting break away from the conventional as much as possible, so that the trees would have more the appearance of being situated by nature.

"I don't believe an avenue of trees in Laguna canyon, for instance, would be in keeping with the surroundings," said he. "I think groups could be produced and trees scattered along in such a way as to get rid of the idea of systematic beautification, and in that way a more attractive drive could be secured than if we planted the oaks every seventy-five feet the whole way through."

Westminster Park
R. E. Larter of Westminster said that the Westminster Improvement Association has a committee named to adorn the square owned by the county at Westminster. A movement is on foot to beautify the property and turn it into an attractive park. The property belongs to the county. On Larter's request, it was decided to give the Westminster committee whatever trees it wants for planting in the square.

Larter will represent the board in relation to the proposed grubbing out of some gum trees at Westminster, which Larter thinks ought to be left as they are magnificent trees and indicate the possibilities of the section. Again, it was brought out that trees along the highways cannot be disturbed without a permit from the county forester.

Yorba Linda Planting
Grant stated that he had met with an improvement club at Yorba Linda, and had agreed to furnish the club not over 2000 trees, principally acacias, for planting there this spring. The club will have the holes dug, and Grant will attend to the planting, the club to look after the trees after they are planted.

Last night a tent that was used to cover an automobile was stolen from the yard of the Immanuel Baptist parsonage at 512 French street. Rev. W. F. Dixon left his machine standing within five feet of the house, and covered it with a 10 by 12 tent. During the night someone entered the yard, pulled off the tent, and carried it away. The tent was described to Officer Pond as having a hole in one corner and a hole in the center.

GETS NEW HUDSON DEMONSTRATOR HERE

Many Applications for Demonstrations of Dodge Automobile

Robert E. Reid, agent for the Dodge automobile and the Hudson line of cars, went to Los Angeles yesterday and brought down a new Hudson demonstrator. Reid reports the sale of a Hudson Six yesterday and states that he has a long list of prospective buyers.

"In some way the impression has gotten out that the Dodge car exhibited at the Auto Show was sent back to Los Angeles," said Reid this morning. "This is a mistake. The car is here and will remain here and I am giving demonstrations just as fast as I can get around to those who have made applications for them. I am working at a slight disadvantage, owing to the fact that I can't get into my garage at 513-515 North Main street until the Cadillac moves out, which will be within the next few days. In the meantime those wishing demonstrations of the Dodge or Hudson can make appointments by phoning the Cadillac garage or to my residence."

Reid states that nearly all the Southern California agents for the Dodge, have received their demonstrator cars and that he will be able to make deliveries of the Dodge to fill all his orders during the month of February.

Evan J. Maxwell has taken a position with Reid and will be his salesman for the Hudson.

WOULD LEAVE IT TO THE COUNTY BOARDS

North End Opposes Proposed Good Roads Discussion at Associated Chambers

ALSO AGAINST VOTING MORE ROAD BONDS NOW

Probability Strong That Views of League on Open Forum Will Prevail

There is a strong possibility that when the clans gather at Yorba Linda Friday night to set off fireworks concerning the disposal of $240,000 of surplus good roads money, the first resolution to be presented will be to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the County Highway Commission and the Board of Supervisors. If that resolution carries there will be no fireworks. It is certain that any movement to get more good roads bonds at this time will meet opposition.

That a resolution to head off discussion at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce will receive the united support of the delegations from the north end of the county and that any resolution to go on record as favoring additional good roads bonds at this time will receive the united opposition of those same delegations is indicated by the action of the North Orange County Protective Association at its meeting last night. The twenty-five men who were present representing all of the booster bodies of that part of the county passed two important resolutions.

One was a resolution opposing any attempt to call an election to vote additional good roads bonds at this time.

The other was a resolution in favor of leaving the disposal of the good roads surplus entirely in the hands of the County Highway Commission and the Board of Supervisors.

Those who attended the north-enders' league meeting last night discussed the situation at length. It was declared that opposing the matter up for recommendations at the Associated Chambers of Commerce would bring about a hopeless wrangle, each community's representatives pulling and hauling for what they considered the most advantageous disposal of the funds, from the standpoint of their community. Along with this view came an expression of confidence in the ability and fairness of the highway commissioners and the supervisors.

That no great good could come from leaving the matter open to discussion was a sentiment expressed before the meeting of the Board of Supervisors two weeks ago by Highway Commissioners Pixley and McFadden. McFadden said that something he worth while might be accomplished should the Associated Chambers undertake to express an opinion upon some general policy or county proposition, such as the paving of the Santa Ana canyon road. It is generally conceded that the coast boulevard supporters are anxious to be heard at the Associated Chambers meeting, on the theory that when their proposition is thoroughly understood it wins converts to the cause.

It is now believed that one of the first motions that will be put at the Yorba Linda meeting will be a motion to drop the consideration of the disposal of the surplus, so far as the Associated Chambers is concerned. It is asserted that with the unanimous vote of the north-enders and the vote of some other delegations the motion will carry.

On information that there was a movement afoot to start a campaign in favor of voting $500,000 more good roads bonds, that phase of the matter was discussed at the meeting of the north-end league last night. Doubt as to the success of the venture and sentiment against voting any more bonds at this time led to the passage of a resolution against the proposal.

THREATEN TO MANDAMUS THE COUNTY BOARD

Storm Water District Says Supervisors Will Have to Build the Olive Road

County May Have to Build Road, But No Law to Make It Put in Approaches

That there is not a question of doubt but that the Anaheim Storm Water District is going to disincorporate was asserted here yesterday by Godfrey Stock, one of the three directors elected by the district. Moreover, it was declared by the Anaheim man that there is full confidence in his section that the county will build the Anaheim-Olive road regardless of whether or not the storm water district does anything in the way of protective work along the Santa Ana river.

Stock had little to say concerning the plans of the district, further than that it would disincorporate. It has been learned, however, that there is a movement on foot to fight the Board of Supervisors to a finish should it continue to decline to build the Anaheim-Olive road. Mandamus proceedings have been talked, and the talk amounts to nothing more nor less than a threat. In substance it is:

"Build that road or we will mandamus you."

The controversy concerning river protection, bridge building and road building the district east of Anaheim is one that had its inception many months ago. When first it became known that Orange county was going to build a number of concrete bridges, Anaheim's papers and Board of Trade began a systematic campaign for the building of a concrete bridge across the Santa Ana river on the Anaheim-Olive road. Hearings were held by the supervisors, and a definite promise was made by a delegation from Anaheim that the Santa Ana river channel would be defined and a dike constructed to conform with it.

The supervisors proceeded to get plans for the bridge, and let a contract for it. In the meantime the Anaheim Storm Water District had been organized, for the avowed single purpose of doing river protective work.

Suddenly it became known that the district was not going to do anything—that it, nothing but dismiss itself from existence. The supervisors had let the contract for the bridge building, and is in the position of building a bridge in the middle of a mud-bed, with just about as much chance that the water will go under it as it will that it will go around it.

Within the last month the supervisors rejected all bids for building the Anaheim-Olive road on the ground that the Anaheim people had not put in the dike, and that without the dike the river would certainly wash out the road.

The Anaheim people who are talking mandamus proceedings argue that when the $1,270,000 good roads bonds were issued, there was a definite plan for road improvement. The Anaheim-Olive road was included. The county highway commission and board of supervisors are bound by law to complete that road. There are no two ways about it. Until all the roads contemplated for improvement under the bond issue are completed, none of the left-over money can be touched. All this agony concerning where the good roads surplus is to go might as well be postponed. It is not an issue until the Anaheim-Olive road is provided for. The Mother Colony contenders are rumbling like distant thunder, and it is asserted on good authority that they are going to go to court if necessary to hasten action for the paving of the road.

So goes the talk. It is asserted by many of the leaders of storm water district disincorporation that the district itself never promised the board of supervisors anything; that the promise was made by the representatives of the Anaheim Board of Trade. Monday night the Board of Trade took a new tack in the eventful voyage that has marked the river protective proceedings, as is shown by the following from the Anaheim Herald:

"J. F. Ahlborn made a resolution, which was passed at the meeting of the Board of Trade last night, that will help out with the solving of the river protection for the Anaheim district. The secretary was instructed to communicate with the local representatives in the assembly and senate to endorse the bill now up for consideration for the control of surplus waters to be under the supervision of the counties and state."

Even if by watchful waiting, the storm water district disincorporators can force the board of supervisors to build the Anaheim-Olive road, they cannot force the board to build approaches to the concrete bridge. The argument of the supervisors who are opposing doing any more development work in the section around the Santa Ana river between the olive bridge and Yorba until the river is properly taken care of is that the river is just as likely to break over as not. There is no question but that the west bank of the river is poorly defined, and that a big flood may find the river caving off across country.

It has been argued that the county ought to dike the river. The reply of the county officials who take the other side of the argument is that it is not fair to compel or allow the Newberry Protection District to do its own river protective work, and through county taxes help pay for the protective work done above them.

A LIVE SPORT LETTER

By Hal Sheridan

NEW YORK.—There will be few fresh faces in the chorus when Jawn McGraw rolls up the asbestos on his McGraw performance of the season at the Polo Grounds a few months hence. According to all the dope thus far gathered, the Giants will present about the same cast that was pushed out of the pennant chase by the Braves last season.

McGraw will lead a caravan of about 50 baseballers to Marlin, Tex., for spring training and there is the customary one to ten chance that he will pick a few winners from the green stick. The general belief is, however, that excepting the locating of Hans Lobert at third, only one or two other changes will be made in the line-up.

The Giant pilot believes that shunting Lobert in at third plugs up one of the weakest spots in his machine, a weakness that he thinks put his team out of the world's championship series last fall. There is a possibility that Larry Doyle may be replaced by a youngster, unless he retrieves his batting eye and of course it will be McGraw's job to keep his eye working for real pitching timber.

With Al Demaree gone in the trade with the Phillies, and Rube Marquard making such noise about playing with the Brooklyn Dodgers, McGraw will have but three regulars at Marlin—Mathewson, Tesreau and Fromme. Though Mattie's late campaigning indicated a tendency toward slipping, he is being counted upon to go through the season with a creditable if not brilliant performance.

Bill Ritter is one of the youngsters McGraw believes may get a regular job and while he is wintering in Cuba he will look over Palermo, the Cuban southpaw, who is touted as certain of a regular job on the Giants' hurling corps.

The Giants, by the way, may pick up some of the loose change lying around El Paso, Tex., and Juarez, Mexico, on the day before the Willard Johnson fight. The Giants are scheduled to play an exhibition at Dallas on March 6, preceding the battle, but are giving serious consideration to a proposal for an exhibition game at El Paso, either with the Cleveland Naps, who will be at San Antonio, or with their own Yannisians.

One robber pointed a revolver at the woman and the other grabbed her handbag containing the money. Both escaped.

It has been argued that the county ought to dike the river. The reply of the county officials who take the other side of the argument is that it is not fair to compel or allow the Newberry Protection District to do its own river protective work, and through county taxes help pay for the protective work done above them.

Even if by watchful waiting, the storm water district disincorporators can force the board of supervisors to build the Anaheim-Olive road, they cannot force the board to build approaches to the concrete bridge. The argument of the supervisors who are opposing doing any more development work in the section around the Santa Ana river between the olive bridge and Yorba until the river is properly taken care of is that the river is just as likely to break over as not. There is no question but that the west bank of the river is poorly defined, and that a big flood may find the river caving off across country.

WOES OF WAR ENTAILED UPON THE FUTURE

Hideously unspeakable are the horrors of the war in Europe—its present-moment horrors. But, even when it shall have dragged its blood-drenched course to final ending, its horrors will not have ceased. Indeed, some of the most dreadful consequences of this unnatural conflict will be entailed upon the future—a heritage of horror destined to run through generations. There will be the pitiable army of cripples, burdensomely to be a charge upon the future. And then the widows and orphans with the hardships they must endure, even though governments may pension them liberally. Furthermore, the siring of the next generation. Herein war hurls one of its most appalling curses upon mankind, robbing the nation of the flower of its manhood and leaving inferior men to father the children of the future. Finally, the staggering burdens of debt—burdens so colossal the mind of man cannot conceive of their magnitude. The world will be paying for this war, directly or indirectly, for centuries to come.—Pasadena Star.

CALIFORNIA'S POPULATION
The census bureau at Washington estimates that the population of California, on April 15, 1915, will be 2,829,440, an increase of 451,891 over the 1910 census, or at the rate of nineteen per cent for the five year period. Since 1900 the population of the state has just about doubled. The rate of increase in population is healthful—sufficiently rapid to denote constant advancement and development, and yet not so abnormally swift as to portend a slump. The state is growing just as its wise promoters would have it grow—substantially and permanently, not ephemerally and mushroomly. Population is not coming so swiftly as to congest the state beyond its foodstuff-producing capacity. On the contrary, most of those who come immediately settle down and busily engage in helping to develop the state's resources through some channel of activity. Those who come to California to live do not find a ready-made empire, but an empire in the making, and in the making of which they may have and are expected to have an active part. California will be developing fifty years and a hundred years hence. It has resources the development of which will run into countless generations. It has resources capable of supporting a population many times as great as its present near three millions.
That this state's population will continue to increase steadily and rapidly seems assured beyond peradventure. The next decade doubtless will witness a very notable influx of settlers. Opening of the canal and this year's two big expositions will keep this state in the eye of the world and undoubtedly will draw many to cast their lot permanently in this commonwealth.—Long Beach Press.

BEAUTY WHOLLY NATURAL
Strangers who come to California this year should not fall into the mistaken impression that this state is all dolled up especially for exposition year and it goes around in a faded kimono, with no roses in its hair, during years where there is nothing special to draw visitors this way. Truth is, California is just its natural self, this year—no more beautiful and fetching than usual. Note, too, that its beauty is natural, not artificial. Its hills have no drugstore complexion and its verdant, teeming valleys wear no make-up.—San Bernardino News.

MADISON'S PROPHETIC EYE
Kansas City Times
When the constitution was being framed in the Philadelphia convention, there was much uncertainty as to the best method of making appointments. James Madison, one of the leading spirits of the convention, afterwards president, urged that the president be given the appointing power, subject to a veto by a two-thirds vote "of the second branch of the legislature." That is, the president's nominees should automatically assume office unless the senate interposed its veto.
Madison's chief reason for the suggestion, so his "Journal" says, was "that it secured the responsibility of the executive, who would, in general, be more capable and likely to select characters than the legislature, or even the second branch of it, who might hide their selfish motives under the number concerned in the appointment."
Madison had a pretty accurate idea of human nature. History has justified his fear.

Foundation Stones for Agricultural Success

[NOTE—"What are the fundamental principles of successful agriculture?" This is one of a series of articles answering that question. In these brief summaries different experts of the faculty of the College of Agriculture of the University of California have set forth succinctly the basic principles of their various specialties.]

1—CITRUS FRUITS
By J. Eliot Coit, Professor of Citriculture in the University of California.

The most important factors in successful culture are: The soil, favorable, climate conditions, irrigation, fertilization, cultivation, healthy, vigorous trees, careful pruning, membership in a strong selling association.
Sour orange is the best root-stock, broadly speaking.
High-budded trees are most resistant to disease.
The control of scale insects costs six per cent on two hundred and fifty dollars for each acre annually. Scale-free districts need not pay this tax.
Plow-side and hardpan decrease yields.
Maintenance of the humus content of acid soils increases yields.
Allowing the roots to dry during transplanting kills trees.
Allowing the soil to become too dry once makes trouble for a year.
Suckers cannot be depended upon to grow into profitable branches.
Frequent pruning of lemons increases yields.
Top-working old orchards is usually unprofitable.
Orchard temperatures may be economically raised ten degrees with oil heaters.
Radiated heat is more effective than heat by reflection.
Fruit decays are caused by fungus parasites.
Tent-cured lemons ship better than tree-ripe fruit.
Toadstool fungus is fatal to citrus trees.
Lemon gum disease may be cured with Bordeaux paste.
Scale insects are most economically controlled by fumigation.

WHITE HOUSE RHETORIC
Providence Journal

Mr. Wilson expressed himself as "unaffectedly complimented" by the second visit to the White House of a delegation of democratic women, 100 strong, appealing for his support for a suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. And the occasion also produced this row of words: "I, ladies, am tied to a conviction which I have had all my life, that changes of this sort ought to be brought about state by state." "Tied to a conviction" is as fine as anything that has blossomed out of the plentiful White House rhetoric up to this time.

CHILE'S TRUMP CARD
San Francisco Chronicle

It has been intimated that Chile has in her power to hasten the termination of the war by denying niter to the belligerents. Although processes have been devised of extracting niter from the atmosphere the quality thus far produced by this method has been very small compared with that consumed, and if gunpowder is to be exploded at the rate it has been during the past five months it is reasonably certain that the stocks held in Europe will be exhausted and fighting will come to an end. It is assumed that the presence of the fleets of Germany and Great Britain in the waters of the South Pacific is connected with the niter question and the necessity of obtaining supplies. The niter beds of Chile are largely in the ownership of foreigners, but it is assumed that the southern republic, if desirous of declaring an embargo, could not be interfered with; whether it will do so is doubtful.

FACTS ABOUT CALIFORNIA

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

Isidore Jacobs, president of the California canneries company is authority for the statement that "The total pack of California canned fruit for 1914 can be estimated at about 5,500,000 cases, of a market value of about $15,000,000. Of this the foreign trade has taken approximately 1,500,000 cases, of a value of about $5,000,000. The total pack of California canned vegetables is estimated at about 3,000,000 cases, of which a very small percentage was exported. The approximated value of this pack was about $6,000,000. The total combined pack of California fruit and vegetables was 8,500,000 cases, or about 200,000,000 cans, of an approximate value of about $21,000,000. It must be borne in mind," he continues, "that the fruit canning industry of California uses but a small portion of the fruit crop of the State, ranging all the way from 15 to 30 per cent, according to the variety of fruit. The bulk of the fruit is dried or shipped fresh. The season of 1914 showed total shipments of fresh delicious fruits to be about 2500 cars more than in 1913, or a total of about 36,000 tons increase, but the gross returns are estimated to have been over $3,000,000 less than in 1913. The pack of canned goods this year is a record pack.

Orange county's chile crop for the present year will amount to very close to $350,000, according to estimates of growers at Garden Grove, which is the heart of the industry in this county. The production of pimientos will reach approximately 1400 tons at $20 per ton. About 2000 tons of green California chile pods will be produced, bringing an average price of $18 per ton. Of dry California pods at an average price of 8 cents per pound there will be produced about 800 tons, while 1000 tons of evaporated Mexican chile pods will be produced, valued at about 9 cents per pound. Scattered lots of chile of various varieties throughout the country will bring the total up to very close to $350,000. Fifteen tons of green chile have been harvested from an acre but the average production is eight to ten tons per acre.

H. H. Henderson, engineer in chief for the Anderson-Cottonwood irrigation district, Shasta county, submitted his general report to the board of directors at a meeting. The district, he finds, includes 32,000 acres of land. His estimate of cost, which includes all the preliminary expenses, the cost of rights of way and the best type of construction, is $350,000. The cost per acre will be $11.25. The cost per acre per year for water, once the system is completed, will be between $1.15 and $1.30. The plans call for a canal and tunnel, the latter at the Redding end, where the water is diverted at from the river, that will carry 17,600 inches of water, or enough to cover every acre in the district one foot deep every ten days.

Division Manager Black of the California Fruit Growers Association, stationed in New York, declares that California lemons arriving now in the metropolis are the finest quality ever grown. "In connection with the production of lemons in California," said Mr. Black, "there is an acreage in sight which will produce in a few years approximately 16,000 cars. In view of the fact that the normal consumption in the United States is reported to be in the neighborhood of 12,000 cars per year, it is clearly evident that California will soon be prepared to supply all the lemons consumed in the United States and Canada, and have a few cars left for export.

Six thousand carloads of vegetables, which will return the growers $1,850,000, is the output of the California vegetable Union this season, the figures being given out by W. S. O'Neill, president of the Union. His figures segregated show the 600 carloads of vegetables will comprise 2500 of celery, worth $200 a car; 200 of lettuce at $325; 400 of tomatoes at $750; 500 of cauliflower at $250; 400 of cabbage at $250; 200 of onions at $500; 500 of potatoes at $300; 300 of cassabas at $300, and of mixed small vegetables 1000 cars averaging $400 per car. It is believed this year will record about 10 per cent greater production than that of 1913.

Riverside Portland Cement Company has purchased one thousand acres of cement and lime rock lands in the Springville district, Tulare county, and will, it is said, erect a big plant there. The land purchased is about eleven miles above the townsite of Springville. It is stated that the purchase was made largely because of the fact that it is remote from improved ranches and orchards. The Southern California plant has been fighting perennial lawsuits brought by owners of orange groves, who have set up the contention that the dust from the cement grinders injured their property. There is no orchard tract near enough to the Springville property to be effected.

Since the first of October, 44,467 tons of 1914 raisins have been shipped out of California, or more than 40 per cent of the entire crop, according to figures just received by the Associated Raisin Company of Fresno. The shipments thus far this year exceed those of last year by about 11,500 tons. The total shipments for October and November, 1913, were 32,950 tons. Shipments out of California for October were 33,135 tons as against 24,407 for the same month in 1913, a gain of 8665 tons. Shipments for November were 11,332 tons, as against 8484 for November, 1913, a gain of about 2850 tons.

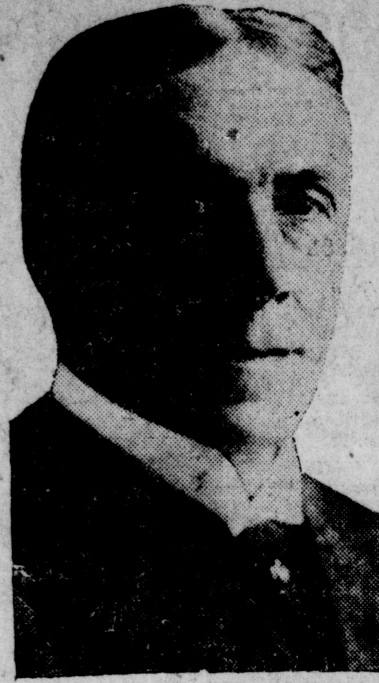

At the convention of olive growers at Yuba City, this week Professor W. S. Ogles of the State University, was the principal speaker. Professor Ogles is an authority on the olive and explained the new method of preparing olive seed. A mechanical device for preparing olive seed for planting was exhibited, which device can be made without cost by any grower, and through its use experiments have proved that olive trees can be made to mature sooner. Formulas for pickling olives and other matters of interest were discussed.

Irrigation District Association of California in convention at Tulare decided upon several matters of legislation and appointed a committee consisting of John A. Orr of Turlock, chairman; J. B. Trask of Modesto, W. O. Hamilton of Imperial, Charles Sampson of La Mesa, Peter Schulp of Alta, C. E. Steingul of South San Joaquin, and J. M. Murtha of Oakdale, who will confer with the legislature regarding matters of importance to irrigation districts. A law to make irrigation bonds more salable was strongly urged.

Officials of the Agricultural Department learned something new of the possibilities offered for the cultivation of semi-tropical fruits in Northern California upon a recent visit to the Sunny Slope Nurseries at Bangor, near Oroville, Butte county. They found growing there such tropical fruits as the avocado or alligator pear, the carob, the guava, the feijoa, the cherimoya and the phytolacca arborea or Tree of the Gods.

Parcel post continues to flood Weaverville from Redding at the rate of about five tons a day. The total receipts for the months of September, October and November were 346,122 pounds, or 173 tons. The contractor receives $2.10 per 100 pounds. His receipts for the three months were $8378. Five eight-horse teams are engaged in the parcel post service. They are allowed four days to make the trip of fifty-one miles.

ART STUDY CLUB

Members Enjoy Interesting Meeting at Home of Misses Gowdy

The Art Study Club held a most interesting meeting at the home of the Misses Gowdy, Monday evening. Mrs. Lee's paper on the San Diego Exposition, with illustrations, was both interesting and instructive, especially the part describing the art treasures of the exposition and the master painters there represented.

The members of this club are indebted to Mrs. Lee for the many helpful suggestions in making it possible to visit the exposition, with fuller appreciation of its beauty and educational advantages.

Miss Nelle Sumner gave a very practical and attractive talk on the "Art of Framing Pictures." A number of fine pictures, artistically framed, served to illustrate her subject and were greatly admired by all.

Anyone unacquainted with the attractiveness of Miss Sumner's charming shop, should avail themselves of the pleasure and privilege of seeing her many art treasures.

The program closed with art notes by Mrs. Burger, bringing to the attention of the club, some of the most prominent art workers of the day and also, their contributions to the two California expositions.

Mrs. Burger pleased her audience with her ability to select the best from a long list of artists represented and her notes were so helpful that the president of the club requested every member to come to the next meeting, prepared to give one artist of note.

The pleasant evening closed with a beautiful musical number by Mrs. Padgham much to the delight of all present.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, February 23, with Miss Pease at the home of Mrs. Gale, 922 North Spurgeon street, and it is hoped that there will be a full attendance, if possible.

Enjoyed Turkey Dinner

A turkey dinner, with all the appetizing accessories, was enjoyed Sunday by the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson, 1116 West First street.

A low bowl of artistically arranged violets graced the dining table, where covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Jackson and daughter, Miss Virginia, of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. H. Fred Towner, of 822 Baker street, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilson and son, Lester, of Tustin, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wilson.

JOLLY SOCIAL

Merry Guessing Contests at C. F. Crookshank's Entertain Junior Bible Class

The members of the Junior Bible class of the First Congregational church held a delightful social meeting, last evening at the home of C. S. Crookshank.

After a hearty welcome had been accorded the guests, each was presented with a black booklet and tiny pencil and told to guess the advertisements pinned to the back of each guest. This "walking advertisement" contest having been enjoyed, all busily engaged in seeing how many words could be formed singly and collectively, from the letters of the Junior Bible class.

A telegram to be written with ten words beginning with the same letter, caused a fund of amusement, several clever messages being the result of the fertile imagination of many of the company.

Mrs. Perry F. Schrock, who showed the most brilliancy in these various contests, was rewarded with a pretty brown lower-basket while Mrs. Chas. Chapman was given a copy of Munsey's magazine as a hint to diligently study the advertising section and be the "star" of the next guessing contest.

The congenial company was entertained by various musical selections from the elegant victrola during the serving of pumpkin pie, olives and coffee by the committee, composed of Mesdames E. M. Neally, C. F. Crose and John Cochran, this feature closing the pleasant social evening.

PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENING

Ladies Play Auction Bridge While Husbands Make Merry Across the Way

An evening at auction bridge at the E. S. Morrow home on South Spurgeon street, entertained a merry company of ladies, whose husbands were attending an Elks lodge meeting last night. Mesdames E. S. Morrow and H. T. Duckett were the hostesses. At the close of the interesting session at cards, a beautiful Japanese tablecloth and napkins were presented to Mrs. George Briggs, the "star" bridge player of the evening, while a pretty embroidered guest towel rewarded Mrs. C. S. Kendall who held the second highest score.

Those who entered into the animated contest were Mesdames William F. Lutz, R. M. Scott, George Briggs, Fred Parsons, R. R. Shafer, R. F. Hatzfeld, O. K. Porgy, Parke S. Roper, W. A. Huff, F. W. Fuller, Clyde J. Walker, W. L. Grubb, C. S. Kendall and C. M. Jordan.

Now, while the ladies were being so highly entertained, the Elks' lodge session had adjourned earlier than had been expected, so the gentlemen were glad to accept the invitation of C. M. Jordan to accompany him to his home to hold their "waiting" session. Arriving at the Jordan home, the ingenious host engineered an impromptu Dutch lunch and the gentlemen had the time of their lives in preparing their "feed." While having such a good time, the hours had slid away, and Mrs. Jordan had arrived from across the way, to find the "Best People on Earth" in possession of her home. She at once telephoned to Mrs. Morrow to bring her band over to join in the fun, and the remainder of the evening was heartily enjoyed by all.

New Spanish Class
On account of the crowded condition of the beginners' Spanish classes, B. F. Beswick has been secured to teach this language to beginners, each evening of the night school, at every period.

The new class will be held in room 207 and new students will have the opportunity of starting their work tonight.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

Splendid Mother's Meeting Held Yesterday at Home of Mrs. F. H. McElree

The W. C. T. U. held a splendid mothers' meeting yesterday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. F. H. McElree, 608 Ross street. Plans for a membership campaign were taken up. There were over fifty ladies present, some young mothers with their babies. The young mothers are always welcome and those who will receive much help from the mothers' meeting were present. Mrs. F. H. McElree, superintendent of mothers' meetings, had charge of the program, which opened by singing "A Charge to Keep I Have." Mrs. W. T. Mitchell led very appropriate devotional services.

A ladies' quartet, composed of Mrs. W. J. Sackman, Mrs. Ludwig, Mrs. George Post and Mrs. Chapman, gave a number. They were accompanied by Mrs. Moesser. Then came a solo by Mrs. Biggs. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ludwig. Mrs. King gave a reading, assisted by Miss Verna Weber, who sang "My Mother's Prayer." They were accompanied by Mrs. Ludwig.

The subject for the mothers' meeting was "The Moral Education for Children and Sabbath Observance." Mrs. McElree opened the subject with a short talk. Clippings relating to the subject were read by Mesdames Polard, Norman, Burns, Sackman, King, Winbiger, Davis and Heil.

Rev. Paul E. Wright gave one of his splendid talks to mothers, on the subject of "Moral Education." He emphasized very strongly that not having the Bible in the public schools, was one of the great hindrances to moral education and it was fast turning the minds of young people to paganism. Many of the children of today have very little or no religious training in the homes. The one most important thought brought out was that one must live the Christian life every hour of the day, that one can't live it in worship and cast it aside in business affairs. Children are great imitators and one must constantly be a living example.

Mrs. Scott of Tustin closed the program with prayer.

Some important business was considered. A whirlwind canvas for increasing the membership of the W. C. T. U. will be held on Tuesday, February 6. It will be necessary for all members who are willing and able to work to offer their services for that day as the entire city is to be covered. A number of volunteers were received at the meeting yesterday and streets assigned, but many more are needed. Those who are willing to do a portion of this work Tuesday are asked to call up the president, that a street may be assigned. The locality in which the woman lives will be the part each one should have as far as possible. Women can help this work along by co-operating with the president.

The tax of thirty cents for the purpose of having an exhibit and headquarters at the San Diego Exposition is due now and all who can do so are requested to pay as soon as possible to the treasurer, Mrs. E. H. Prince, 702 Hickey street. Also unpaid dues are requested by the treasurer to be in by the last of February. Mrs. Mariatt, superintendent of peace, distributed some petitions to be signed by the different churches, asking the president to join in a world-wide Federation of Peace.

The next meeting will be the "Crusade and Willard Memorial," and will be held at the home of Mrs. Theodore Winbiger, 207 East Ninth street. Mrs. Elizabeth Mills will have charge of the meeting.

At the close of this splendid meeting Mrs. McElree served delicious fruitade and wafers. Mrs. McElree was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. A. C. Black, Mrs. Winbiger and Mrs. W. S. Rose.

Auction Bridge Club
Mrs. George Briggs was hostess, yesterday to the Auction Bridge Club, of which she is a member, the ladies meeting at her attractive home on North Broadway.

Mrs. E. S. Morrow held high score, at the close of the merry games and was awarded with an appropriate prize, the consolation going to Mrs. Robert Shafer.

Fragrant bouquets of vari-colored sweet peas decorated the living rooms, and after the delightful session at this favorite card game, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mesdames H. T. Duckett and Abbie Collins substituted for two members unable to attend, others present being Mesdames E. S. Morrow, R. R. Shafer, W. F. Lutz, C. S. Kendall, Roscoe

O. C. B. C. L. C. Elects Officers

The O. C. B. C. Literary Society of the Orange County Business College, held its second successful meeting in the assembly hall of the above named school, at the closing of the school hours yesterday afternoon.

The principal object of the meeting was to elect officers, and those that received an office in this society were as follows:

President, Mr. J. L. Boscom; vice president, Miss Alice Hart; secretary, Miss Mabel Green; treasurer, Mm. Mattocks.

After the officers were elected and installed, Prof. J. W. McCormack who is president of the Orange County Business College gave a short speech on "Ways to Conduct a Literary Society," which received a hearty applause.

It is understood that this society is preparing for a debate and social entertainment which is to be given in the near future.

A. W. L. Accepts Invitation

Mrs. Rachel Stanley, the charming new president of the Orange County American Woman's League, presided over the meeting held by the Santa Ana chapter yesterday, at the home of Mrs. Nels Hawkins, 412 West Second street.

During the business meeting it was decided to accept the kind invitation of the Orange A. W. L. to hold the Orange County triennial A. W. L. meeting, February 23, at the home of Mrs. L. A. Stolp, 632 West La Veta avenue, Orange.

Fern and poinsettias decorated the living room of the pretty home and white roses added floral charm to the dining room where dainty refreshments were served during the social hours.

The guest company greatly enjoyed the examination of several handsome pieces of furniture, the handiwork of Mr. Hawkins and also admired the beautiful paintings of his talented wife. The enthusiastic meeting closed with many compliments on the hospitality of the hostess of the afternoon.

Juvenile Birthday Party

The sixth birthday of little Arline Webster also celebrated the seventeenth birthday anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Webster, of South Main street, and in honor of this important event, the small daughter of the house was permitted to invite several playmates to accompany her home from school, to share her birthday "spread."

An animal carter hunt was entered into with a vim that brought her to the pastry menagerie, hidden throughout the imaginary woods, and hunters, little Misses Alta Carter and Dolly Richards.

Following this merry game, the youngsters were called into the darkened dining room, illuminated by the brightly glowing candles of two beautiful birthday cakes.

A low bowl of violets formed the pretty centerpiece at the table, around which the children gathered for the birthday treat of cake, punch, fruit and dainty home-made candies.

The extinguishing of the candles filled the children with glee even to the tiny baby guest, little Etta Marie Jackson, who was the center of attraction.

Mesdames C. K. Richards, W. M. Jackson and John Biggs assisted Mrs. Majors in entertaining the children. Those who joined in the happy celebration were little Misses Dolly Richards, Alta Carter, Mabel Pruitt, Thelma Quinn, Stella Nelson, Hilda Coral, Etta Marie Jackson and the honoree, Arline Webster.

Priscilla Club Meets

One of the most delightful meetings of the Priscilla Club was enjoyed by its members, yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Curtis Wells of South Birch street.

Brilliant geraniums of a beautiful scarlet hue, decorated the living room while a jardiniere of vari-colored roses added their fragrance to the pretty dining room.

The afternoon hours were whiled away with gay conversation and needle work and delicious refreshments, served by the hostess, closed the pleasant entertainment.

Those present were Mesdames Speers, A. P. Dresser, Kirwin, Joe Head, Ray Dresser, Carl Barkow, J. L. McBride and Will Howell.

Mrs. Backow will entertain the club at its next meeting at her charming little bungalow on West Fourth street.

Hustlers Victorious at Basketball

The boys' Y. M. C. A. club from Westminster, the Spartans, visited the Hustlers of Santa Ana last night. The two clubs met in the basement of the first Presbyterian Church for Bible study, led by D. G. Tidball, leader of the Hustlers. After the Bible study, the clubs went to the French street basketball grounds, where a very interesting game of basketball was played between the two clubs, resulting in a victory for the S. A. Hustlers. The score was 23 to 3.

The local boys played a very strong game and their fine team-work was genuine for the large score. The game was a clean one from start to finish, there being no crabbing among the fellows.

After the game the clubs returned to the church and enjoyed refreshments. Before the Westminster boys left for home they challenged the Hustlers to a debate. The Hustlers accepted the challenge, and with many hearty cheers for each other the Spartans left for home.

AMUSEMENTS

Splendid Entertainers

Friday night of this week at Elks' hall will be given the entertainment planned by the Parent-Teacher Association of Spurgeon school. The association is raising a fund for use in the school's betterment. While Margaret McKee's whistling is to be the central attraction, there will be splendid numbers by Catherine Lennox, piano soloist, and Leah McKee, a delightful reader and impersonator.

"Whistling and trilling with bird-like purity and sweetness, Margaret McKee, a charming 14-year-old native daughter, furnished a delightful feature of the entertainment of the visitors last night with solos and imitations. Her rendition of difficult solo selections from Mascagni, Mendelssohn and Wagner were a revelation to those who had not heard her before; but her most pleasing results were secured in imitations of birds, which were accurate to a degree of almost perfection and remarkable sweetness."

King Richard in Pictures at Temple

It is not often that the public has an opportunity of seeing the greatest actors for the admission price of ten cents, but such is the case at the Temple Theatre. Today and tomorrow only, Manager Schlesinger has secured for his patrons the greatest of all legends, Frederick Warde, in what is proclaimed by all critics to be his most wonderful interpretation, that of Richard the Third. To all lovers of art this will prove a great treat, and none should miss seeing these wonderful pictures. This is the first and only motion picture you will ever have the chance to see Mr. Warde in.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANKING BOARD MAKES REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Federal Reserve Bank Board made its first annual report to the House today. The report was a review of the circumstances which led to the establishment of the Federal Reserve Banking system.

It made only a few recommendations or predictions. The important points in the report were: The establishment of the gold exchange fund had a good effect upon banking conditions almost immediately. By the time the Federal Reserve banks had opened for business, danger of immediate gold exports had passed.

The cotton loan fund was another beneficial feature referred to, but its effect could not be measured by the actual amounts loaned.

Patience with the system should be exercised, the report said, until it has had time to demonstrate its usefulness.

Safety in critical times will depend on the country's confidence in the system, it adds.

Much time having been devoted to check clearness, important improvements in this system and wider currency for checks are expected in the near future.

It is a mistake, the report says, to regard the Federal Reserve banks merely emergency institutions.

The banks can never become the important factor in the money market they were designed to be unless a considerable part of their resources are regularly and constantly employed, it is stated.

"With the lower rate of discount now prevailing at reserve banks and a continued increase in the rate of taxation, to which emergency currency is made subject," the report said in conclusion, "there will be a gradual conversion of such currency into federal reserve notes, so far as existing notes are not redundant."

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Advertisement.

PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION

(From Los Angeles Financial News.)

When the Panama-Pacific Exposition opens in February in the big California building the fifty-eight counties in the State will have ready displays which will compete with states and nations of the world. The cost of installing and assembling these exhibits in the second largest building on the exposition grounds will exceed one and a quarter million dollars. Speaking of the exhibit to be made the San Francisco Chronicle says:

"In order that sections of the State having similar interests might be represented in combined displays, the State has been divided into six chief groups, each under management of a special commission. These are the Sacramento Valley and Mountain Counties Association, of sixteen counties, which is installing one of the most costly and beautiful of displays, occupying an area 200 by 140 feet in the northwest corner of the vast hall; the Southern California Commission, with all of the seven lower counties, whose wonderful display occupies a space 185 by ninety-one feet, fronting the main southern entrance to the California building; the San Joaquin Valley Association, adjoining the Southern group on the west, with an equal amount of space; the eight central coast counties, with a space of 185 by ninety-five feet in the southwestern corner these eight counties having separate exhibits within one huge booth; the north-of-the-bay counties, three in number, with an east corner; and a mountain group of four counties, occupying a similar area. Beside these groups are the individual counties displays—some of them installed at an expense as high as $100,000 each—including Santa Barbara, Marin, Contra Costa, Kern and Tulare, Sierra, Inyo, Mono, Lake and others.

"Southern California will make a wonderful impression with her display of citrus fruits and honey particularly, and the transparencies that encircle the pillar alone will cost thousands of dollars. Another feature of the southern display is the beautiful open-air bungalow built at a cost of $10,000, to be used as a rest room and to contain the offices of the commission.

"Among the attractive displays will be those of Marin and Napa counties, both following schemes unique in exposition work, each showing a number of large bridges, the arches of actual rock to be built by the county road supervisors, to be used as the entrances. Marin also is showing a panorama of Mt. Tamalpais, extending to the ceiling, with large redwood trees flanking the entrances to the display.

"The big things of the State also are exemplified by Mendocino's huge redwood tree twenty feet in diameter by forty feet long, hollow; its entire interior space utilized as an art gallery for the paintings of her artistic sons. The inside finish is beautifully executed in redwood. Much credit, according to Egilbert, is due the three redwood counties, Sonoma, Mendocino and Humboldt, and to Dr. Thomas MacClay of the counties commission for the remarkable display of redwood lumber used in the booth construction built at a cost of $17,000, as well as in the display proper. The long, fluted columns of curly redwood burl give the facade unique distinction.

"One of the most striking of the displays is that made by San Mateo county. It occupies a circular rotunda in the center of its section, and will be decorated with characteristic fruits and flowers. The remarkably comprehensive display assembled by the sixteen Sacramento Valley counties deserves a chapter to itself. It is being decorated with two carloads of statuary and plaster ornaments designed by the famous sculptor Rupert Schmid, and will include some artistic effects never before attempted at an exposition. Statues of Marshall, the discoverer of gold and of California guiding the bear will be features. Each of the counties or groups will have its own moving picture theater in the 168,000 feet devoted to the fifty-eight counties.

"In connection with the displays will be dozens of county pageants, on sea and land, and during the first two months of the exposition no less than fifty special county days will be dedicated to these and other great symbolical and historical festivals and pageants. These exposition pageants will be amplifications in many instances of the annual celebrations peculiar to the various California cities and regions, which for many years have been presented on an increasing scale. For example, it is expected that there will be some of the old mission plays of the south and central sections, the river pageant dramas of Santa Cruz, the apple shows of Sebastopol and Watsonville, the forest dramas of Carmel, a great floral festival by the southern counties, based on the New Year's rose festival of Pasadena; the raisin and grape festivals of Fresno, Lodi and other sections; the wild West rodeo as given annually at Salinas; forty-nine pageants by the gold counties; cherry, prune and almond blossom festivals by the counties of the Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys; and others wholly new.

"Particularly gorgeous and appropriate will be the symbolical 100-mile water pageant, for which tentative plans have been considered by the sixteen counties comprised in the Sacramento Valley and Mountain Counties Association. This is set for the week beginning March 25th, and includes a brilliant marine pageant of over 300 floral barges and decorated vessels. Starting from Sacramento on the 25th, the procession will float down the Sacramento river, spend the night at Vallecito, and crossing San Pablo and San Francisco bays the next morning parade before the exposition buildings and come to anchor in yacht harbor. This is timed to arrive on the date of entrance through the Golden Gate of the international naval parade bringing President Wilson and his Cabinet from the Atlantic by way of the Panama canal."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—That "Pigs is Pigs," is an old aphorism, but that "Pigs is War," is something new.

This gigantic European war, according to the different parties to it, was caused by several hundred different events. Some people say it was started when Sir Edward Grey, British ambassador at Berlin, discharged his German cook; others say it was German militarism, and many believe Russia started the conflict by mobilizing against Austria. And by this time most everyone has forgotten that the war really began when Austria refused the ultimatum of Serbia to her ultimatum.

Well, this story of "Pigs is War," goes back to the time when Serbia and Austria were finding it difficult to keep their inhabitants along their mutual border from throwing stones at each other.

Some three years ago, according to officials of the Austria-Hungarian embassy, the armies of Austria and Serbia almost came to blows over the shipment of pigs from Belgrade and other Serbian cities into Bosnia. Serbia insisted that all pigs, sick pigs and well ones, should be permitted to cross the border and be sold in Bosnia. Austria said pigs having cholera must not be admitted to Austrian prevalence houses. Because of the slaughter of cholera in Serbia, Serbia's exports of hogs. Numerous skirmishes along the border between hog shippers, hog buyers and hog raisers, became so acute that the foreign offices of the two governments had to take the matter up. After some exchanges of diplomatic notes the matter was adjusted.

From that time up until the assassination of the Arch-Duke of Austria and his wife at Sarajevo, Bosnia, the exporters and importers of those two countries were fighting over the shipments of pigs. Serbia, never "got over" the attitude of Austria.

So, pigs it was, that started this war.

Although the woman suffrage amendment has been defeated in the House, there is still considerable discussion here at the ingenious ways the women have of getting action. Although their objects are often defeated their zeal always wins.

The newest proposition has just been submitted by Mrs. Clara Bewick Colby. She says the women still have another chance and that it is: Get some woman to go to the polls and try to vote. If the officials refuse, she would sue and bring a test case before the Supreme Court.

Then the highest court would have to decide whether a woman is a citizen. If the decision was favorable, the suffragists declare, they would have a right to vote.

Friends of Secretary of the Navy Daniels are breathing somewhat easier as a result of Secretary Bryan's announcement that his securing of a home at Asheville did not mean that he intended running for the United States Senate from North Carolina.

Political gossip among friends of the Secretary of the Navy declares Mr. Daniels has an eye on a seat in the Senate after the close of the present administration. Mr. Daniels has long been an ardent admirer and follower of the Commander. For Bryan to be a candidate would, to say the least, be embarrassing for the Secretary of the Navy.

from $5.75 to $5.85; Washingtons at $6; small whites at the same figure; Blackeyes at $6.50; Bayons at $7 and lentils are as high as $12 on the best grade. Receipts were 477 sacks.

The demand for citrus fruit showed a little improvement and prices were firm through the list. Limes advanced to $1.25 per basket. Oranges and grapefruit are very firm and the latter may go up within the next few days. Eastern demand would be the principal cause. Apples have not been responding very well during the week past, although yellow pippins have shown an increased demand because of advertising of the brand. Receipts were only three boxes yesterday, none the day previous and are expected to amount to little during the next five months when the new crop comes in.

QUICK ACQUITTAL IS GIVEN MAN ACCUSED DRIVING WHEN UNFIT

Jury Says Meyer Not Guilty; More Fullerton Troubles in Court Today

It took a jury just five minutes and one ballot to bring in a verdict of not guilty. This was in the case of Frank O. Meyer, a produce buyer of Fullerton, charged with driving an automobile while he was intoxicated.

The evidence against the man appeared to the jury to be rather slim and thin. City Marshal French of Fullerton saw him at a distance of 250 feet and from the way his face looked and his head moved he thought the man was under the influence. Other witnesses said he killed the engine of his car.

Meyer's had a number of witnesses who said he was not intoxicated. It seems that Meyer's automobile hit a wagon, and was thrown around in such a way that Sid Lemon, a pedestrian was jammed against a post. Meyer's attorneys, Allen and Stewart, said the accident was unavoidable.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give 'California Syrup of Figs'

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! See if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently melt out of its little bowels without grating, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

AUTOMOBILE BUMPS WAGON AND GETS THE WORST OF IT

This morning at 6 o'clock an automobile from Orange bumped a wagon driven by A. M. Starkey. The collision occurred at the corner of Second and Main streets.

In the machine were K. E. Watson, druggist, and W. O. Hart, editor of the Orange News. They were on their way to the Orange County Country Club when the accident occurred.

It was quite dark, Starkey's horses shied, and jumped to the left side of the street. Watson, who was driving, attempted to swing around the team and wagon and got almost clear. His machine skidded, however, and the rear of it struck the wagon. The tonneau and one fender of the machine were damaged. No one was hurt.

The married life of the Coles lasted twenty-four hours, when the bride disappeared.

The sewers, water and gas are already in, and these lots will be sold with a guarantee from owners that streets will be graveled and oiled, that all sidewalks and curbing will be built, that parking will be completed and that trees will be planted.

While Improvements are being completed

20% discount from list prices will be given to the first ten persons buying lots!

For the purpose of securing the erection of a few houses:

40% discount from list prices will be given to the first five persons buying lots on which houses are erected within ninety days from date of purchase.

All lots in this entire subdivision will be sold under restrictions, which means that the POLYTECHNIC VILLA SUBDIVISION will soon become one of the best residential districts of Santa Ana, and under this very liberal proposition anyone desiring a home can secure it with a cash payment of only 60 per cent of value of lot and a monthly payment very little, if any, more than rent.

To persons desiring to make a quick profit on a small investment, this is their chance if they come in time. We will be pleased to show these lots with auto and explain terms of payment at any time. If purchaser pays for lot and has not the money to build a house we will loan the funds necessary on easy monthly payments.

A committee, composed of business men, is raising a fund to be loaned at low interest and thus stimulate building and other industry. All merchants and manufacturers will be visited within the next fortnight and urged to "build now" or "increase your force." F. H. Other city projects are to be put into operation as soon as possible.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF GEORGE E. SHELTON

The funeral services of George E. Shelton were held yesterday afternoon at Smith & Tuttle's chapel.

The rooms were filled with the many friends of the deceased and his family, who came to witness these last sad rites. Rev. Paul E. Wright, pastor of the First Christian Church, conducted the ceremony and voiced the feelings of the entire community in his beautifully expressed words of sympathy and comfort to the grief-stricken family.

The entire Blace force, of which Mr. Shelton has been a faithful and efficient member, attended the funeral in a body, and among the floral offerings was their beautiful pillow of hyacinths embedded in ferns with its significant "36," the printers' code meaning "the last."

The Typographical Union also attended in a body and expressed their respect by a handsome moral piece marked with the same significant message.

A quartette composed of Misses Ray Knights, La Rue Phipps, Errol Lucas and J. E. Critchfield, the woman strike leader, sang softly and sweetly the comforting hymns, "Some Sweet Day" and "Thy Will Be Done."

The pall-bearers who paid their last respects to the deceased with their service, were L. M. Hopper, Orville S. Waters, M. L. Howard, C. W. Brake-man, Jay Palmiter and R. H. Carmichael.

GAME LAWS MAY BE AID TO 'TENDERFEET'

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Arizona's State Senate resents the imputation that fierce mustached road agents with large guns stand on the street corners and "stick up" Eastern tenderfeet.

That body recently replied to the inquiry of an automobile journal editor, as to whether the militia would protect Eastern motorists passing through Arizona to the California expositions as follows:

"The committee on militia and public defense has suggested that the Arizona game laws be made to protect the class of tourists your communication concerns."
